"I nicknamed you rabbit because lettuce leaves and ranch at 5am is wild, LOL. In such little time, I have so many unspoken words to say, every second, every minute of your existence was the most precious moments of my life. Now all I have is memories. I pray one day the lord helps me understand why it had to be this way. All I ever wanted was a baby of my own. All I ever wanted was a son. All I ever wanted in this world was you. Save a spot for me in Heaven son. Mommy loves you the most."

No services were rendered. Cremation rites were accorded.
