“ I'm so sad to learn of the passing of Kesha. I was Kesha's interior designer for her home in Atlanta. I recall that when I did the reveal of her bedroom, she shed tears and said that she loved it and never imagined her room would look the way it did. I did her install on November 1 and had no idea that almost a month to the day, she would be gone. I'm just finding out about her passing today. My sincere regrets and prayers go out to her family and even her cat, Tiger. She had a genuinely sweet spirit and I prayed for her and with her. May Kesha rest in heavenly peace.

“ May you all be comforted in your grief at losing Kesha. I knew her only briefly when she was a senior at Woodruff, but I observed how her positive attitude toward school, people, and life influenced the other cheerleaders on her squad. She was truly generous and outstanding wherever she went. Her legacy lives on in ways you may never know.

“ Kesha was such a sweet and respectful young lady. When Shirley (her mom) and I were together, Kesha would always try to be nosey and hear what we were saying. She had the most beautiful smile that I had ever seen. The last time I saw her, she came up behind me and gave me a great big hug and told me all about GA. Now she is hugging Shirley and they are back together again.....
