“ I have so much to say about you, but what saddens my heart is I will not have you walk me down the aisle and that was always the biggest thing I talked about with you, but I know you're not hurting anymore and you're with mom having a great time and I know that is what you wanted. I will have my days as well as your grandchildren, but you can let go now daddy it will be a little scary but we will be okay. I love you BOTH and sleep well until we are together again.

“ I worked with Ray at Big Lots. He was so very helpful n a funny guy. I was so nervous working there at first but Ray seemed to take that away . It's funny because I was just thinking about him the other day. I'm sure he will be missed by many. R.i.p. Ray

“ *Raymond, as I sit here , my heart heavy, the tears warm on my eyes as I remember, being the youngest and probably the sassiest; as a young girl, you watched over me when I needed a big brother, as a teenager, I thought I didn't need a big brother, but you proved me wrong, you shared things that I needed to expect as I grew into a woman, from a brother's point of view. I loved seeing that smile whenever I would sneak up on you at Big Lots, you would always ask about my children and family. The last time I saw you, I was leaving your apartment to return to Georgia and you gave me the biggest hug and you followed me to the door & watched me leave, I didn't know then that God would call you home before I would see you again. I did get a picture with you that I will cherish always. I didn't see a lot of you, but I am glad for the times that we talked and laughed on the phone and the memories we made even then. Some of conversations were filled with dynamite!!, I love you Big Brother. Take Your Rest, In Peace..
