“ Tina, you were one of the first family members on Bruz's side that I met. You welcomed me with open arms. Then we became camping buddies, which you always made it fun. I'll always remember you and hold you in my heart. In the words of Billy Graham, " Someday you will hear that I died, don't believe a word of it." I just changed addresses." Until we meet again.

“ Best memory I can tell is she always talked about her children and grandchildren and that they were here whole world. She would say they make her upset sometimes but they are family and that is what family does.

I worked next to Tina at Mapleton and she couldn't seem to get enough ice to chomp on. She always had her ice chips, she always talked about her family, I am forever grateful for knowing her. She was a very stubborn woman and I am very grateful for knowing her. Fly high BIG MAMA!
