“ *He was always a kind person he would sit in the back of the class wearing his favorite color, black and would always speak mostly when he flaming Micheal. He was so generous and hardworking on and off the field and he was always talking about how he can't wait until basketball season start. Why would they strike a young child that had nothing to do with the problems you had with someone else that's a senseless shame and makes me cry even thinking bout it the boys that survived are soldiers they tried but didn't make it in time I'm grateful they are still alive and hope they heal. I wish he were still alive the kids be crying so hard man I wish he was still here right now. i know nothing lasts forever, but not all things should go so soon...

“ Tommie was so great. Up in school he was the best anyone could ask for. He was cool, like if anyone needed him he would be right there for them. If you needed help he would help. He was the best, I miss him...
Knowing this really happened is sad, it makes me cry. He was too young to lose his life, it hurts me to know he is really gone. I think of him night and day. I see him standing there smiling, next minute he's not there. The last time we talked was on Friday when I seen him out with some people and the last words I got to hear from him was "What's up"

“ May God bless this beautiful young man. May our heavenly father bring comfort and healing to this young man's grieving family. Let them understand that it's okay to cry and be sorrowful. Hold their hands father and walk with them through this journey, keep their hearts full of faith and strength. It is in you our lord that we will find peace in knowing you welcomed with open arms, their loved one. At this time God, I ask that you remind this family to come together and lean on each other and help each other through the tough times that will come. I have faith that you will guide them with the most gentle hand. I have faith in all you do. It is in your name and faith I pray, AMEN!!
